

Climbing the Tree to Placements–The Data Structures Workshop

On the 28th and 29th of March, IEEE and Girlscript collaborated on a workshop on Data Structures. At the event which focused on placement related questions, they put together an efficient and detailed set of talks followed by an active coding session, that neatly encompassed everything related to data structures required for placements.