

Uttarakhand Floods—The Himalayan Glacier Threat

As a daunting reminder of the Kedarnath tragedy, Uttarakhand experienced highly destructive floods on the 7th February, 2021. A consequence of glacial melting, possibly accelerated by global warming, havoc was wreaked on the people working at the nearby power projects. While the race to rescue the missing people prolongs, the country prays with bated breath for Chamoli.