

TechTatva'22-Questionable Intelligence

True to its name, this event made all the contestants question their intelligence. From word puzzles and 'pop' culture to technology-centric debates, it activated both the logical and creative centres of the brain. Contestants hoping for an affirmation of their sagacity would walk away either gratified or disappointed.